ATTENTION: EXHIBITORS & SPONSORS

This conference will bring together more than 600 medical and public health professionals and students who will exchange ideas about medicine, public health, and international health.

Why Sponsor or Exhibit?

The Unite For Sight Conference offers an unparalleled opportunity to build relationships with individuals and organizations committed to improving health globally. Conference participants will be looking for products and services that will help them better care for their patients and their communities. Sponsorship will position you as a supporter of objective, noncommercial education. Sponsorship and exhibiting provides an excellent way for corporations and nonprofits to raise awareness about their products and services.

Come on board today to take advantage of the recognition available on all Conference materials that are currently in development. All proceeds from this conference will benefit Unite For Sight's international health programs. If you are interested in being a sponsor or exhibitor, please send an e-mail to Jennifer Staple at JStaple@uniteforsight.org by February 20th.

Opportunities are listed on next page.
