Global Health Education: What Should We Teach and How Should We Teach It?

Richard Skolnik, Yale School of Public Health
Unite for Sight
April 2014
Key Questions for Discussion

• Who do you teach?
• What level courses?
• What are your main learning objectives?
• To what extent are these objectives part of a broader PH or GH curriculum?
• What is your teaching style?
• To what extent are your courses linked with student GH experiences?
Key Questions - 2

- What resources do you use?
- What are the most critical assignments?
- How do you manage to grade them!!???
- How do you pick TAs with broad content knowledge and the ability to critique student writing as well as you can?
Key Questions - 3

• How do you “make learning fun” and help students retain what they learn?
• How do you evaluate student learning?
• How do you keep up with the ever changing GH landscape?
• How do you get ideas about teaching GH and about growing as a GH teacher?