Dr. Rose Leke, recipient of the 2018 Heroine of Health award, bestowed by the World Health Assembly, for her 30 years of work in immunology, parasitology and global health with a focus on malaria and polio eradication across Africa.

There are not enough female leaders in influential leadership positions in global health and particularly not enough African women. It’s critical to empower the next generation of leaders to fill the gap.

Raise your hand..........If you’d do it all again!
We worked here
I learned... that having great Abs, Opens Doors!

I learned..... that the SUN is my ENEMY!
We learned......
What happens in American Samoa.....doesn’t necessarily STAY in American Samoa!
I learned... Tahitian Limes make the best vinegarette salad dressing!

I thought the limes were for the BLENDER DRINKS!!
We KNOW........ that all female travel teams are the BEST!

We also KNOW........ that we are the hardest on Dr. B. !
We will never forget……
this place, our work here, and
who we have become here!
You are astonishing. How dare you waste it?

You have the power to change everything. To create remarkable products and services. To over deliver.

To be the best in the world.
